

WHAT IS CLAIMED IS:

1. A method for applying coating to the upper or other parts of a shoe material, comprising the step of:

5 (a). material providing step: selecting a shoe material with adhesive surface;

(b). gluing step: applying adhesive to the adhesive surface of the shoe;

10 (c). coating materials forming step: putting the shoe material with adhesive in a chamber, the chamber being capable of spraying out coating materials in form of powder particles, through an electrostatic the powder particles being evenly suspended above the shoe;

15 (d). coating layer forming step: the suspended powder particles falling down and evenly adhering to the adhesive surface of the shoe, whereby the adhesive surface of the shoe material having a special texture of the coating layer.

2. A shoe material coating structure comprising:

a shoe material having a adhesive surface defined thereon;

an adhesive layer being on the adhesive surface of the shoe material;

20 a coating layer formed on the surface of the adhesive layer in form of powder particles.